MESA

LOOKING FOR SPOOKS

The following is the experience of a bachelor, who recently rented a cottage in Mesa:
"As is the fashion in Mesa in the good old summer time, the tenant of the house makes up his bed nightly on the porch in front. When he moved into the premises a month ago he did not notice anything strange about the premises for a week. And then he came to realize one night after he had gone to bed that something was walking about on the other end of the porch. He could not see anything, but he distinctly felt the floor shake under some one's footfall. A demand as to who was there evoked no response, and the tenant got out of bed, secured a lamp and made an investigation—without result. Satisfied that he was not mistaken in the matter, and that something must cause the floor to give as it did, he placed a box of parlor matches alongside the bed, trusting to strike a light before the mysterious visitant could get away.

"As soon as he got back in bed the swaying of the floor began again. 'I've got him now!' thought the sleepless tenant, and with the thought he struck the match. Not a soul in sight.
"During the night he struck a couple of dozen matches, always with the same result. Then he made up his mind that he would leave the porch to his strange visitant, and so moved his bed inside despite the heat. Here it was almost as bad. While he no longer felt the swaying of the floor on the porch, in lieu of it there began a scratching on the screen of the front door, and this continues all night until daylight.

"There was no apparent cause for the scratching on the screen, any more than there was for the sensation on the porch, and the tenant of the house is now convinced that it is simply a case of common, everyday spooks. The tenant has bought a gun and will now try bombarding his visitor."

MR. CUBER IMPROVING.
A letter received from Colton, California, states that A. L. Cuber, who left Mesa about a month ago for Ocean Side, California, later going to Colton, on account of ill health, is much improved. When Mr. Cuber left Mesa he could not walk without assistance, now he is able to go around without a cane and can eat anything in sight. He has gained several pounds and expects to return to Mesa in perfect health.

A Man Saved on the Noble Building by Massie

Mrs. Malone—Why say Mrs. O'Flarty how are you getting along? Mrs. O'Flarty—Why bless the whole fair face of ye, I am all rite. But bless me bones my old man is soured on the whole blessed business. Mrs. Malone—Why how is that. Mrs. O'Flarty—Why you see Mike works so hard on the Noble building that when he comes home he is all in and then when he takes a bite he drops off to bed. But the old springs is like a hammock, and you just lay in a rainbow all the blessed night. So Mike poor man says his back is almost broke every blessed morning. And O I don't know what the devil to do for if Mike has to quit work, it means $5 every blessed day that he is out of work. Mrs. Malone—Well Mrs. O'Flarty, I always heard that an Irishman's brains only worked on one side at a time. Now let me tell you. Go rite down to Massie's store and get a daisy spring with roll edges and all through white cotton mattress. He has got them now and Mike will not have the back ache any more and he will hold his job too. Massie can furnish your house with everything. He has stoves, chairs, tables, rugs, either new or second hand. See him.

To the Public

St. Louis, Aug. 9, 1907.
The following letter explains itself:
Mr. Hector McRae,
105 Merchants' Exchange,
St. Louis, Mo.

My Dear Sir:—
I am in receipt of your favor of the 8th inst., and beg to say that after carefully reading your communication and consulting with other members of the Board of Directors of the U. S. Copper Co., within my reach, it is the sense of those present that we should make a simple denial of any responsibility for the advertisements which have appeared in the various papers warning the public against you. It was not an official act of the Board but one of its individual members, therefore the U. S. Copper Co., is in no wise responsible for the advertisements of which you make complaint. Inasmuch as it was not an official act of the Directors, I am sure you will agree with me that we cannot make any public denial of the matter, but would however suggest that you can use this letter which will serve your purpose as effectively as by publishing an advertisement in the newspapers.
Yours very truly,
(Signed) GEO. A. NEWMAN,
President.
